

Manifest — kumpel* Collective

Awareness collective for clubs, events & collectives

1. Who we are

kumpel* is an independent awareness collective based in Berlin that supports clubs, collectives, and organizers in creating safer, respectful, and prejudice-free spaces — both preventively and interventively.

We bring trained, experienced, and responsible people to your event who act as first points of contact, provide support and accompaniment, and connect individuals to counseling services.

We bring competent awareness work into the club and event scene and create structures in which both guests and awareness teams can feel comfortable.

2. Our mission

We want everyone at an event to feel safe, respected, and welcome. It is important to us that everyone present — guests and team alike — is emotionally and physically well.

We stand for this with clear principles:

For us, awareness means:

- Support for those affected: listening, accompanying, supporting.
- Prevention: visibility, education, and communication.
- Mediation: connecting to counseling centers, support services, and resources.
- Responsibility: trained, experienced, and reflective staff.
- Aftercare: follow-up care for those affected and for the team.

We stand against:

Violence of any kind, sexism, discrimination, racism, and hostility toward queer people.

We stand for:

A prejudice-free space in which everyone feels safe — guests and team alike.

3. Why kumpel* matters

kumpel* creates awareness and protective spaces where they are needed: in clubs, at festivals, and at events of all kinds. Our presence is preventive; our attitude is de-escalating.

We take responsibility where others celebrate.

With us by your side, you show a clear stance for respectful coexistence and against any form of harassment or exclusion.

4. Who we are here for

- Event participants: We are approachable, supportive, and on your side if you feel uncomfortable or unsafe — mentally or physically.
 - Organizers & venues: We support you in implementing awareness structures, take on shifts on site, and help create a positive sense of safety.
 - Interested helpers: We share knowledge, structures, and entry points for awareness work in the club and cultural scene.

5. How we work

We work in a structured, respectful, and professional manner. Our teams are trained, experienced, and act according to a shared guideline. We pay attention to fair shift distribution and team aftercare to prevent overload and ensure long-term stability.

An awareness team usually consists of two awareness persons and one awareness lead who keeps an overview and serves as the point of contact for organizers.

As a rough guideline, we plan one awareness person per 200 guests. Based on this, team size is adjusted. In principle, we aim for a 50% quota of FLINTA* persons per team. Shifts usually last 3–4 hours to maintain attention and quality.

6. Drug prevention & education

We see drug education as part of prevention work. Our goal is not control, but awareness: providing information, understanding risks, and celebrating safely together.

7. Aftercare & sustainability

Awareness does not end with the last party. We offer aftercare — follow-up conversations, psychological support, and open communication after the event. Internally, we also place great value on debriefing, reflection, and mutual support.

8. Process & collaboration

1. Inquiry: Organizers contact us with date, location, and event size.
 2. Briefing: We coordinate the schedule, responsibilities, and communication channels together.
 3. Deployment: Our team is on site, visible and approachable for guests and crew.
 4. Follow-up: Aftercare, feedback, and lessons learned — to make every event safer.

9. Attitude & values

We work exclusively with partners who reject discrimination and promote diversity. All people should feel welcome and protected at our events. Respect, trust, and openness are the foundation of our work.

10. Our promise

With kumpel*, you bring in a team that takes a clear stance, assumes responsibility, and implements awareness work professionally and empathetically. We are not security — we are people who pay attention, listen, and act.
